Frequently asked questions:

Is IV therapy a good choice for me?

The answer is likely yes, but a preliminary appointment and recent labs are required to insure the best results.

What ingredients are used?

We use several different formulas, all custom made to the patient. We pick what we think will work best for your needs.

How is IV different than taking a multivitamin?

Infusing nutrients via IV means your GI system doesn't need to break down, absorb, and filter. The nutrients go straight to the tissues that need it the most.

How many treatments does the therapy require?

Some patients like coming in once a week, and others once is enough. It very much depends on you and your doctor's goals.

How long does it take?

An infusion usually lasts about an hour, but sometimes larger doses of nutrients can take up to three or four hours.

What about iron?

Iron is our most utilized IV therapies. We use only iron sucrose (Venofer), which is the safest form of IV iron available.

Get it all

Infusion therapy is a safe, effective procedure that can help reduce recovery time from a cold and maybe prevent future illness. It carries the same risks as any therapy, but we keep the risk to a minimum by strict attention to sterility and safety.
